ReMode Project Wins the ITMF Collaboration Award 2025

The ReMode Project has achieved an important international milestone by receiving the ITMF Collaboration Award 2025, presented during the ITMF & IAF Annual Conference in Indonesia. Selected from more than 100 international applications, this prestigious recognition highlights ReMode's outstanding contribution to innovation, collaboration, and skills development in the global textile and apparel sector.

The International Textile Manufacturers Federation (ITMF) is the leading global federation representing the entire textile value chain. Bringing together national textile associations, companies, and key stakeholders from more than 40 countries, ITMF plays a central role in shaping international dialogue on competitiveness, sustainability, digital transformation, innovation, and workforce development. The federation regularly advises industry leaders and policymakers on strategic challenges and future trends affecting the textile industry worldwide.

Receiving the ITMF Collaboration Award 2025 represents a significant external validation of the ReMode Project's vision and impact.
